PROJECT > Completely Remodeled 1950's Colonial Home

Two previous remodels left the home feeling dated and disjointed. CRD re-purposed rooms and opened walls up to create a flowing open concept home for a new family of five within a three month time-frame to do most of the renovations.

We removed a bedroom over the foyer opening up the stairs to the 2nd floor and basement. Two useless rooms were redesigned to create four functional spaces. We designed, built and installed custom cherry cabinetry in the den with coffered ceilings.

The formal dining room was converted into a hearth room, adding a fireplace while opening it up to the kitchen and foyer. The powder room, three bedrooms and bathrooms were re-designed. The laundry was moved to encompass a new mudroom, re-using existing cabinets and granite, moving the entrance from the garage to make a better flow for the family.

In the kitchen the island and buffet were changed to open up more walls and create an island sitting area.
